General Comment

I believe it is my right as a woman to have available to me any type or health care I might need including and not limited to contraceptive care. It is WRONG for any person or business to tell me what type of care I an allowed to have based on their religious belief.

They have a right to freedom of religion but they DO NOT have a right to impose their belief on me by limiting my insurance coverage because of their personal belief.

This is appalling and down right unAmerican! I can't believe it's even on the books to be passed as a law! This is outrageous! It would set woman's rights back decades to pass such a pejorative bill!
